

PARENTAL PERMIT

Mandatory for all participants under the age of 16

TalTech e-Sport 2019 Spring is taking place in the main building and the student house of Tallinn University of Technology on the 19th - 21st of April. The event lasts throughout the day and night. TalTech e-Sport is organised by the Student Council of School of IT of Tallinn University of Technology. The organisers do not claim any responsibility for the participants and provide no supervision over them.

If your child or ward breaks the laws of the Republic of Estonia or the house rules (shown on page below) of the event, they may be removed from the event.

If necessary, the police can be involved. Reasons for the removal from the event will be informed through a phone call and no matter the hour, the parent is responsible for organising the participants transport home.

As a parent, you agree that your child or ward participates in this event with your trust and without parental supervision. The suggested age limit for the event is 16 and it is the parent's decision of letting your child partake in TalTech e-Sport.

PS. This permit must be on person at all times during the event.

Suggestions for the parent

Unfortunately it is not uncommon that the participants of LAN parties may not care for their hygiene, sleep and nutrition as much as usual. Keeping that in mind, we suggest you inform your children of the consequences of these actions. Due to the fact that the air of the assembly hall of TTU can get pretty stuffed and dry, we suggest the children to stay hydrated at all times and maybe refrain from sweet drinks. In addition, we suggest people not to drink caffeine and sugary drinks. As sleep is a very important part of a person's life, we would appreciate that your children take along their sleeping equipment so they won't feel bad of sleeplessness.
